SOADI Personal and Personal Health Information Notice and Consent

NOTICE

This Notice is to inform you how the Southern Ontario Aboriginal Diabetes Initiative (“SOADI”) will collect, use, and disclose of your personal information and personal health information.

SOADI will collect, use, and disclose information about you for the following purposes.

- To enable SOADI to contact you and provide necessary services, if your application is accepted.
- To provide specific information into a data collection system, specific to the program(s) in which you participate. This information relates to program statistics and reporting, is in compliance with the Personal Health Information Protection Act (PHIPA) and does not involve the release of your personal information.

All employees and contractors at SOADI are sworn to an Oath of Confidentiality.

Any complaints about how your personal health information is collected, used or disclosed may be filed with SOADI’s Executive Director.

Only necessary information is collected about you. Your information is only shared by written consent. The storage, retention, and destruction of your personal and personal health information complies with SOADI’s file maintenance policy, applicable legislation and privacy protection protocols, to ensure its confidentiality.

If your personal health information is used in studies, research, or reports on issues specific to Aboriginal peoples, no identifiable information will be used.

Your signature is consent to the collection, use, disclosure and destruction of your personal and health information only for the purposes listed. Other uses require your specific consent.

Your signature is consent to the treatment which may be performed on a regular basis by a SOADI registered service provider, which may include but not limited to, initial and annual foot exam including photographs of your feet, foot measurement, foot treatment and maintenance care.

Your consent may be withdrawn at any time by notice to SOADI.

You may place conditions or restrictions on your consent with respect to how your personal health information is shared with other custodians.

SOADI and any other custodian is permitted to disclose your personal health information for the purpose of eliminating or reducing significant risk of serious bodily harm to an individual or group of persons.

You may access your own personal health information, or request corrections, through a written request to SOADI or its Executive Director.
